

Travel With A Purpose!

Travelers, volunteers, and students can expect a life changing experience by combining culture, philanthropy, business practices, and personal growth with the adventure of world travel. The team will work with Habitat for Humanity in their mission to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness throughout the world.

This team project will play an integral part in helping future homeowners develop self-sufficiency by working along side them as they build. Likewise, a portion of the trip fee goes towards eliminating the expense of building the home. The work of Habitat is neither a band-aid nor a 'quick fix' attempt, rather an effort that guides the families in need to a long-term affordable housing solution that is sustainable.

This trip provides another 'unusual' experience—you can become a participant in Jean Ann's doctoral dissertation. The working title is: The Effects of Volunteerism on the Volunteer: Regarding Teamwork and Lessons Learned That Transfer to the Workplace. Get more information at: www.JeanAnnFrench.com.

Romania – November 3-10 2007

- 11/2 Depart for Budapest
- 11/3 R&R in Budapest & spend the night
- 11/4 Van transfer to Cluj & welcome dinner
- 11/5-9 Work on site w/ evening cultural events
- 11/10 R&R to Turda Gorge and Salt Mines
- 11/11 Transfer to Budapest for departure 11/12

Cluj-Napoca, Romania—The Site

The new project, for 2007, is the construction of 2 rows, each with 8 apartments and 5 houses for a total of 26 families. The house has timber framed walls and trusses with tile roof; stucco on exterior and drywall on interior; A Habitat unit includes 3 bedrooms, a kitchen and a bathroom. Another project option is the rehabilitation of apartments, which would allow for working indoors.

Teams work with site supervisors and homeowners. With skilled constructions workers leading the volunteers, travellers do not need construction experience. Also, a translator will be on site.

- The work schedule varies according to activities planned for each day, but the approximate workday is from 8:30AM to 4:00PM (a half hour for the lunch break).
- It is requested that the volunteers bring and donate some basic tools such as: hammer, nail apron, tape measure, utility knife, chalk line, and gloves.
- The appropriate dress for the worksite: jeans, T-shirt and sturdy shoes.

Project Team Leader: Jean Ann French

Jean Ann received her MBA in Marketing from City Univ. (2005) and is currently finishing her DBA in Marketing at Argosy University, Seattle. Her dissertation is on Corporate Social Responsibility. Jean Ann has worked in corporate & nonprofit; most notably with Habitat for Humanity. Jean Ann has successfully lead five Global Village tours:

- 2000—Portugal—7 volunteers
- 2001—Costa Rica—10 volunteers
- 2002—New Zealand—17 volunteers
- 2003—Thailand—13 volunteers
- 2007—Ecuador—10 volunteers

Professor/Co-Leader: Dr. Kylene Quinn

Dr. Quinn received her PhD in Marketing from Dublin University. Kylene has a solid 24 year background of teaching at the college level and consulting with major corporations. While teaching at City U, she traveled with Jean Ann to Thailand for a Habitat Build and more recently, Ecuador March 2007. Being an experienced traveler and a professor with Argosy U, Kylene is ready to 'travel with a purpose'. Kylene is now certified as a GV Team Leader and is planning for 2008!

Contact: frenchja@comcast.net /425-891-3086 - KyleneQuinn@aol.com /425-829-8782